PRACTICAL DIFFICULTIES

ALL QUESTIONS REQUIRE A COMPLETE RESPONSE

R.R.C.O. 1133.17(c)(1). In order to grant an area variance, the following factors shall be considered and weighted by the Board of Appeals to determine practical difficulty:

- A.) Describe what special conditions and circumstances exist which are peculiar to the land or structure involved and which are not applicable generally to other land or structures in the same zoning district (i.e., exceptional irregularity, narrowness, shallowness or steepness of the lot; or proximity to non-conforming and inharmonious uses, structures or conditions).

We are applying for the variance so we can have our AC unit on the side of our house rather than on the back

- B.) Explain whether the property in question will yield a reasonable return or whether there can be any beneficial use of the property without the variance (discuss use limitations without the variance).

The ~~the~~ addition work can be done without the variance but it would hinder the entry way to the back of house and yard

- C.) Explain whether the variance is substantial and is the minimum necessary to make possible the reasonable use of the land or structures (demonstrate how much the variance request deviates from Code requirements, i.e., coverage is 1 or 2% above Code, or setback is 1 or 2 feet less than Code requirement).

The variance is very minimal, and has been discussed with the neighbor in which the AC unit will be along their fence. We informed them of the plan and that we plan to cover it with the proper vegetation.

- D.) Explain whether the essential character of the neighborhood would be substantially altered and whether adjoining properties would suffer substantial detriment as a result of the variance (discuss the increase of value, use, and aesthetic appeal for both your property and adjoining properties, together with any negative impact to adjoining properties).

I do not believe it affects the character as it will not be visible from street or to any surrounding neighbors

E.) Explain whether the variance would adversely affect the delivery of governmental services, such as water, sewer, or trash pickup.

No it would not as it will be in my Backyard

F.) Explain whether the property owner purchased the property with knowledge of the zoning restrictions.

No, when purchased i did not know the zoning restrictions of AC units

G.) Explain whether special conditions or circumstances exist as a result of actions of the owner.

No special conditions in this case to be approved

H.) Explain whether the property owner's predicament feasibly can be obviated through some method other than a variance (why other means and methods of property improvements or enhancements would not suffice).

from talks with contractor there are only two places to put this AC unit either the back of house or the side

I.) Explain whether the spirit and intent behind the zoning requirement would be observed and substantial justice done by granting a variance (discuss the positive impact of your improvement on your property and on the surrounding neighborhood).

Allows this variance creates a more fluid and appealing entrance to the back of house

J.) Explain whether the granting of the variance requested will confer on the applicant any special privilege that is denied by this regulation to other lands, structures, or buildings in the same district.

No it would not

K.) Explain whether a literal interpretation of the provisions of this Code would deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other properties in the same district under the terms of this Code.

No it would not

PLEASE NOTE: A separate Permit Application and fee will be due prior to issuance of the Building Permit. NO CONSTRUCTION IS TO BEGIN until the Building Permit has been issued.
